TOO EARLY FOR INVITATIONS

Replying to a question, Sir Austen told the House the Government had no intention of issuing invitations to a new conference on naval disarmament.

The Foreign Secretary reaffirmed a previous announcement that all questions concerning British relations with the United States and the naval condition of the two countries were under consideration by the British Government.

"Our examination of this ques-tion is being differently prosecuted," he said. "As soon as it is con-cluded the first step will be to communicate with the Dominions."

The Foreign Secretary said the re-cent statement on disarmament in Washington made by Sir Esme Howard had not been made on the instructions of the British Government.

NO CONTRADICTION

Replying to a further question by Ernest Burtle, Labor, Sir Austen said: "If the honorable member looks carefully at the Foreign Office statement issued here and the statement of Ambassador Howard, I think he will see there is no contradiction between them."

wrong conclusions drawn

Sir Austen stated to the House that in no part of Ambassador Howards statement had he indicated immediate developments were likely, although erroneous deductions in this sense appeared to have been drawn from his remarks by certain sections of the press. He explained the Ambassador had given his personal opinion as to the probable course of events.

MAGNIFICENT PROSPECT

MAGNIFICENT PROSPECT

In the course of discussions that have taken place in the past week there has been unfolded a magnificent prospect for the northern half of British Columbia, the period of achievement of which is set at not more than eight or ten years. Conserva've estimates give as probable railway construction figures in the ancerprises of the P.G.E. and Canadian Northeastern within that period a sum of roughly $50,000,000, white already awaiting the advent of transportation, parsicularly in the vicinity of the Groundhog comtry and north of the Naus in the Bell-Irving River territory as well as generally along the line of the C.N.E.R. are a number of important industrial developments which, it is said, will call for the investment of between $8, call for the investment of between 000,000 and $10,000,000 within next five years.

BRANCH LINE,

"While the C.N.E.R. main line extension from the end of its present grade twelve miles east of Stewart will be curtailed, awaiting the development of the p.P.G.E. plans, to the approximate intervening distance of 260 miles between the Bear and Fort Grahame, it will not be hindered in its northern branch along the Bell-freing River to the northern boundary of the Province in the vicinity of Teelin Lake, it was length of roughly 450 miles, and must, according to the terms of the bill, be completed within eight years. The main line must reach its chief.

on, both men were sentenced to fines according to the terms of the bill, be a solo, or, in default, a further term of the within five years. The main line must reach its objective within five years.

While the Government is silent upon its plans for the development of the P.O.E. other than in respect of the announcement made by Premier Tolme that the Government, C.P.R. and C.N.R. would jointly make a natural resources and potential traffic survey this Summer of the territory, between Prince George and Peace River districts, enough has been learned to tween Prince George and Peace River districts, enough has been learned to suggest that more definite plans are maturing. It is hazarded as more than a mere conjecture by those who have studied the situation that is rapidly expanding in the northeastern section of the Province, that it will not be very long before concrete results in the way of transportation to the Peace River will be evident.

The role of Edith Cavell is in the capable hands of Sybil Thorndyke, one of the most popular emotional actresses in London. She is supported by a large cast of capable players including Madame Bodart. Gordon Craig. Marle Ault. Micky Brantford, Mary Brough, Richard Worth and a number of other film plyayers whose names are familiar throughout Europe.

The production is devoid of elaborate war sequences and makes a convincing plea for peace. It relates the straightforward, tensely dramatic story of the life and death of the heroic nurse, who is perhaps one of the most outstanding and colorful characters in modern history.

the musical world. And now Miss Farrar feels with an unerring intuitive certainty that there are heights of artistic subtlety and refinement to be brought to these "miniatures" entirely impossible with the frescoes of opera.

Consider the rich endowment which is Miss Farrar's for use as a lieder singer. Her's is a voice in which are combined remarkable purity and tuscious richness of timbre: flexibility capable of all manner of nuances, from the most tender to the most rapturous; as voice that yearns to express the intimate. Hers is perfection of diction in German, French, Italian, as well as in English, and with her feeling for languages goes also the rare power of feeling the poetry and the drama of her foreign songs, as could be expected only of the French, for their songs, the Germans, the Italians, each for their own. Add to this Miss Farrar's wide range of dramatic ability, her keen ordering brain, which puts the minutest shades of expression into their exact places, and you have the lieder singer par excellence. Miss Farrar has indeed acted shrewdy and wisely in devoting herself exclusively to this Whittaker, which he described as absurd, especially in view of the fact as Patrick Philip, Deputy Minister of Public Works told the committee, outside archiects were employed on Government work. Mr. Whittaker's duties had changed from supervising architect to designing architect. Mr. Walkem pointed to the Essondale Mental Home job for which Mr. Whittaker was responsible, and said the Government would have had to pay $100,000 to any other architect in fees.

G. S. Pearson thought salaries paid technical men throughout the service were to small. Either the men were considerably underpaid or they were not good enough for their jobs.

The cost of $49,000 for the upkeep of the Praser River Bridge was reviewed. The upkeep, it was pointed out, was more than was received in fees. Salaries paid amounted to $24,744. While the bridge was too narrow there was no way of increasing the top structure more than a foot.

Treaty should be made the basis in alled relations in matters of foreign policy. That was to say, in all questions arising between the British Empire and other countries there should be recalled that in this treaty there existed an instrument that banished war as an expression of national policy. No RESERVATIONS

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative liender, saked if the Prime Minister had anything to say with regard to reservations.

Mr. King replied in the affirmative He chose to accept the statement of Right Hon. Sir Austen Chamberiain, British Foreign Minister, who had declared in the British House of Commons that there were no reservations as far as Great Britain and the United States were concerned. Perhaps Mr. Bennett had in mind the statements of unauthorized persons. This treaty would have two effects, It would arouse the conscience of the nation to determine in how far national policy would run counter to the spirit of peace, and in addition there was in the League of Nations a body that was continuing from day to day and responsibilities of the conscience of the nation to determine in the free conscience of the nation to determine in the free conscience of the nation to determine in the conscience of the nation to determine in the free conscience of the nation to determine in the free conscience of the nation to determine in the conscience of the nation to determine the conscience of the nation to determine in the conscience of th

If the world was to have peace, the people of the world must have the will for peace, said Mr. Bennett. The instruments of war must not be created. Men and women must learn to think in terms of peace instead of war. Canadians were proud of the opportunity to associate themselves with other nations in any effort to outlaw was but the instruments of war should be removed, Mr. Bennett declared he did not wish to be placed in the position of recrimination or suspicion, but some recognition should be given to the lessons of history.

There was little doubt, Premier King said, that this treaty renouncing war sould give a stimulus to national disarmament. He again quoted Lord Cushendun as advising the nations not to be disappointed if its effect was not immediately felt.

UNITED IN EFFORT
It seemed superfluous for him to ask why Canada should sign this treaty. The whole Dominion was united in an effort to assist the League of Nations and the country held strongly to the cause of peace, not only within her cause of peace, not only within her can borders, but for the entire world. Supplemental treaties would undoubtidly go far toward further strengthening the Paris pact.

The treaty. said Premier King afforded a new basis for international law. Heretofore war was assumed to have Agnes MacPhall address the an instrument of policy, much of existing international law having this thought behind it, he added. Hereafter, however, relations could not be repressed among nations by the possibility of war between them. They would rather place their reliance upon courts.

Lumber Duties Are Debated in Japan

Seattle, Feb. 20—Cable advices to Kokusai Steamship Company representatives here from their nome office in. Japan yesterday said the Japanese Tariff Revision Commission had approved an import duty on iumber ranging from 2½ to twenty per cent ad valorem, depending on the size of the timber.

The Diet is expected to pass the revised tariff this session. No mention was made of an import duty on logs. Lumber exporters here explained that the Japanese Government was attempting to check the importation of finished lumber, and that if the tariff should become effective exports from this coast probably would be confined largely to logs and big timbers.

"This coast is getting a big share of the continental travel movement, but its advantages, and particularly those of Victoria and Vancouver Island, are not widely enough known," he said. "On my last visit to Victoria in December I spent a great deal of my time on the Island highways and enjoyed the experience to the full. "Scenically and climatically, there is mothing finer. Your golf courses are second to none and golf is a universal pastime. Furthermore it is possible to play here all the year round. There is also a distinctive charm about Victoria that appeals to the visitor."

RECORD HOTEL CONTRACT

The attitude of the Canadian Pacific in boosting Victoria as a holiday resort, Mr. Matthews pointed out, was strikingly indicated by the fact that it is investing several millions of dollars in enlarging the Empress Hotel to more adequately accommodate visitors.

There are no bargains in health

To safeguard precious health and preserve your teeth, avail yourself of the best skill and knowledge of dental science. It is economy. It is the only reasonably sure means of preventing disease that attacks neglected gums, thus ravaging the system, robbing youth, and often causing loss of teeth. This disease is the more serious for only dental care can stem its advance once it is contracted.

See your dentist at least every six months Brush your teeth regularly. But don't forget that teeth are only as healthy as the gums. So brush gums vigorously, morning and night, with the deutifrice made for the purpose, Forhan's for the Gums. It helps to keep them firm and sound.

After you have used Forhan's for a few days you'll notice a vast improvement in the way your gums look and feel—firmer, sounder—thus strong enough to resist disease. Also you'll find that Forhan's cleans teeth and helps to protect them from decay. There are no bargains in health. Get a tube of Forhan's from your druggist and start using it today.

CUT THEM DOWN

IN THE REVISION OF THE RULES of the House, now under way, there should be a provision reasonably limiting the time of members' speeches. Under the present rule anybody can talk all day, or until his wind runs out, if he wants to, whether the subject of his remarks is important or not. Two-hour speeches are fairly common, and we have known members to talk for more than three.

It is not uncommon for a single member of our Legislature to take more time to express his views on some provincial topic than it usually takes three front-bench members of the British Parliament to deal with some momentous question affecting the future of the whole world.

With the exception of the budget speech, or some other deliverance requiring the reading of reports or lengthy correspondence, a speech in the House should not be permitted to exceed an hour at the outside. Members often have been known to consume two hours in saying what could have been more effectively said in half that time.

It is fortunate for long-winded speakers that the newspapers condense the reports of their speeches, because very few people read long reports of public speeches except in very spe-cial circumstances. From a purely debating standpoint the most effective speech is the short speech containing good material and devoid of irrelevant detail.

The House of Commons at Ottawa two years ago adopted a rule providing that no member except the Prime Minister and the leader of the opposition, or a minister moving a government order and the member replying to such minister, or a member making a motion of "no confidence" in the Government and a ister replying to it, shall speak for more than forty minutes at a time in any debate.

This has proven to be an excellent rule. It has saved hours of the time of the session, which costs many thousands of dollars a day to run. It has had a salutary affect upon the members in the sense that it has forced them to acquire the precious art of condensation, to separate the wheat from the chaff of their subjects. In time it will help long-winded, ineffective, speakers to become good debaters. Above all it makes the proceedings more business-like and therefore of greater value to the public.

Our own Legislature should adopt that rule or something like it. The time consumed by the debate on the Speech from the Throne here was a recent demonstration of the necessity of such a reform. It took twelve days to complete this purely formal debate, while at Ottawa the Speech from the Throne discussion was closed in a few hours.

While it is true that many people talk themselves into public life, it also is true that many talk themselves out of it. The late Government suffered considerably from the vocal prodigality of some of its members.

MORE KNOCKING

IN THE COLONIST'S EDITORIAL Columns to-day the following remark appears at the end of a long article hostile to the estabishment in Victoria of a Technical School:

We have been philanthropic enough too long we have been phinanthropic enough too long and it is time that the taxpayers constituted themselves their own trustees in a matter which is making undue inroads on their pockets. The first obvious step in this process is the defeat, for the third time, of the Technical School Bylaw

In the correspondence columns of the same ue Chairman George Jay of the Board of School Trustees answers several recent arguments advanced by The Colonist in opposition to this project. Among other things he says:

The immediate purpose of the proposed new uliding is to provide accommodation for the mmercial and technical students who are now ceiving instruction in the High School.

receiving instruction in the High School.

The transfer of 500 commercial and technical students will adequately relieve the overcrowding which now prevails at the High School. The board must solve this problem before next September. By establishing a technical school the board will receive a Government grant of $105.000 towards building and equipment. Otherwise, the city ratepayers will have to bear the full cost of additional accommodation which must.

Mr. Jay points out, in reply to The Colonist, that "there is no intention on the part of the Board to engage an expensive staff of experts". . . as the number of teachers (nineteen), now employed in the above departments will provide the necessary staff without ments will provide the necessary staff without any additional cost surrounding instruction."

The Board of School Trustees has caused the Technical School bylaw to be submitted to the taxpayers twice already. It asked, and the City Council agreed, that it be submitted a third time—firstly, because the situation at the High School must be dealt with at once; secondly, because by approving the bylaw the Government grant of $105,000 may be obtained, an offer which will expire on March 31, next, and will not be renewed.

offer which will expire on warch 31, next, and will not be renewed.

The Board of School Trustees has explained its position thoroughly. What the public generally thinks of its policy is reflected in the popular vote accorded its members last December, including a former School Trustee—an ardent advocate of technical education—

whom it placed at the top of the aldermanic

The passage of the bylaw on February 28will mean the saving of at least $200,000 to the taxpayers.

Our morning contemporary's hostility to this project is inexplicable. It boosted the grain elevator and moving picture bylaws to the skies, which committed the city to liabilities sufficient to build and operate several technical schools. What's the matter with it anyway?

A FINE WORK

THERE ARE A NUMBER OF FAMilies in Victoria which find it difficult at times to make ends meet and still more difficult to scrape a few dollars together to pay for a much-needed change of air and surroundings in the warm days of Summer. This is particularly hard on toiling mothers and far from good for growing children. A few days in the clear and bracing atmosphere at one of the many beaches would make a great difference to them. How can it be done? The local branch of the Social Service League answers the question.

four Summers this organization has sent hundreds of mothers and children to a Summer camp for rest and change. There for the time being the youngsters have been turned loose to enjoy themselves in pleasant sur-roundings under sympathetic supervision. Their mothers have been relieved of most of their worries. They, too, have been able to relax and get the manifold benefits of the change of air and environment. But this beneficent plan has cost money. The people of Victoria have been generous—as they always are where good works are concerned.

The success with which this annual undertaking has met, however, has prompted the League at this stage to launch out on a more satisfactory programme. It intends to try to raise sufficient funds between now and the early Summer to establish a permanent Rest Camp so that more mothers and children may enjoy these annual holidays. To do that it will require more money than usual; but the executive committee feels that a sympathetic public, recog-nizing what this work already has meant to so many families, will be glad to do its part to insure for those unable to provide it themselves this much-needed rest when it will do most good. Times shares this view and hopes the ponse to the League's appeal will be generous

Since it takes a good deal of time to obtain the necessary funds and to make the necessary arrangements for the development of a scheme of this kind, it is to be hoped the response will be an early one. Donations now may be left at the business office of The Times.

DREAMING

SOME FUNNY IDEAS ABOUT CANada still appear to exist in the minds of people who ought to know better. We now have the strange case of Mr. J. Saxon Mills, a wellknown British publicist, who recently told the readers of a comparatively new British weekly, called Britannia that "the German Government is negotiating with the Government at Ottawa for the sale to Germany of a vast tract of Canadian territory in Saskatchewans" He tonized Saskatchewan by announcing that a Cerman invasion of Canada already is in progress and that "a big German colony in the heart of Canada might conceivably prevent the Dominion from lining up once more with Britain." colored his fantastic picture of a partially Teu-

We do not know whether Mr. Mills has we do not know whether Mr. Mills has ever been to Canada or not. It should be safe to suggest, however, that, like many other writers in the Old World who have taken this Dominion as their theme, he never thought of calling upon the High Commissioner in London or upon any of the Agents-General who represent several of the Canadian provinces over there. He could have satisfied himself on the point by using the telephone for about two minutes. Mr. Mills must be suffering from a chronic nightmare. As The Ottawa Journal suggests, an alienist should be called in by

TEACHERS' SUPERANNUATION

It is hardly possible to put a value in dollars on the work of any conscientious teacher, for the results which it brings the community and the country in mental and moral development are beyond monetary computation. This is peculiarly the case with respect to the work of the women teachers in the public schools. They are handling the children during the most impressionable period in their lives, laying the educational foundations. All the junior classes are in their hands. Were the future, student and citizen receives the impetus which affects his entire career. The responsibility falling on the teacher is a grave one; it should not be complicated by worries over possible financial exigencies when the earning days have passed.

Ford and Edison

Henry Ford has again proved his admiration for the "unparalleled life of achievement" of his close friend. Thomas Alva Edison, by making a gift of $5,000,000 for a technical school and museum, which will house the Edisonian collection owned by the Edison Pioneers and the collection owned by Mr. Ford.

The gift is Mr. Ford's contribution to the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the first lighting of an incadescent lamp in a little room of a frame building at Menlo Park in 1897.

Mr. Ford offered his gift in a letter to the Edison Pioneers asking that the collection of Edison memorials, covering such inventions as the phonograph, the moving picture, the trolley car and radio, be housed and perpetually cared for in a museum being erected at Dearborn, Mich. "You are aware how much of the inspiration of our museum has come from Mr. Edison and his unparalleled life of achievement." Mr. Ford wrote: "You are also aware that we have erected as separate units the laboratories from Menlo Park and Fort Myers, together with the Jordan boarding house and other objects closely related to Mr. Edison's work.

To the Editor—I read with much interest in Saturday's Times that a copy of The News Letter, published on September 26, 1855, had been discovered in the possession of the editor of The Cowichan Leader, and that Mr. Hose, Provincial Librarian, had drawn attention to the probability of this being the first newspaper in Vancouver, Island apart from The Government Gazette.

Mr. R. T. Williams, commenting on this in a letter in Sunday's Colonist gives precedence to The Victoria Gazette. I quite agree with him, only my record of the first issue of The Victoria Gazette is June 25, 1858, or two days earlier than he states.

RELIEF GRANTED

The chairman's report showed that relief had been a heavy item at the first part of the year, but several cases that the society had, been working on for a long time (in one case nearly four years) had at last been granted pensions. This had eased things quite a bit. Several of the cases were outlined showing that not only financial aid had been given, but sympathy and advice. Relief granted was in the way of groceries, fuel, milk, rent, medicines, warm clothing, bedding, flannelettes, shoes, crutches, wheelchairs and many other articles. Single men had been assisted with meals and beds where necessary.

Of Fairfield Choir Success

New Organization Gives Fine Programme and Makes Good Impression

A keenly interested and appeciative audience gathered last evening in the Fairfield United Church. The occasion marked the first appearance of the recently organized Fairfield Festival Chorus, the members of which, for the most part, being ddrawn from the Fairfield district. This body of singers has nothing to be assumed of Indeed judging from the standard of its last night's performance its future looks highly promising. It is surprising that in such a short period of time so much has been accomplished.

The new chorus efforts were most gratifying, and showed that there is much willing support in the city to the cause of chorolism.

In all, the chorus gave five numbers, the opening number, "Te Martners of England," being conducted by Harold Davis, one of its associate conductors, The remaining four were under the alert baton of its principal associate conductor, Major W. M. Watta. Mr. Davis acting in able manner as accompanist. The numbers were: "Merrily Row" (Denza), "The First Day of Spring" and "Celebration of Spring" (Mendelssohn), both unaccompanied, "The Miller's Wooing" (Fanning), baritone solo sung in admirable manner by A. W. Trevett, and the concluding chorus, "The Magte of Spring" (Welmailer), given with much effect and apirit.

Naturally there is much yet to be done. They connected with its affairs

Naturally there is much yet to be done. Those connected with its affairs know well that it has taken more than one season for similar local bodies to atfain to high standards, but patience, painstaking individual effort, diligence of rehearsal and love of work will, in the process of time, achieve its aims and ambitions. Constituted as they were last evening the choir is well bailenced, and its tonal quality is quite good. If anything its members should not forget that all words have their significant values, and that greater surety and confidence are to be included in its accomplishments.

The Fairfield Festival Chorus has a membership of over forty, and among these are some well-known singers who have already been identified with local choral activities. As its name implies, the chorus intends to enter in the vocal classes of the forthcoming local music mise; his work is well studied, and he has good poise and a fine tenor voice. He sang, (a) "A Brown Bird" (Haydn Wood); (b) "Parted" (Del Regio), with violin obligate by Miss Bowhill, and in the duet already mentioned.

Miss Bowhill is a newcomer, and gave a capital display of her violinistic ability. She selected to play the famous De Berist "Scene de Ballet," of which she gave an excellent account. She is well schooled. friends and other house plants, had seen an old house with a living-room which lacked the ele of liveableness. There was a mainted white. The others taking part are already popularly known. These were Maurice Thomas, a prominent tenor of the First Church Prize Choir; Major Firth, baritone, who gave the great aria, "Homor and Arma," from Handel's "Judas Maccabaeus," and Seymour White in an amusing monologue, "Logic," with plano accompaniment. Wild Game of Hockey Big Fight Ends With Buckaroos Is Certain Winners By 4-0 Score

Pacific Coast League Hockey Teams Engage in Rough Cash Receipts For Sharkey-Game That Fans Treated As a Good Joke; Mickey Ion Off Form, Allowing Players to Slash and Cut Away at Each Other; Fans Show Feelings by Litter- All Future Receipts Will Be ing Ice With Programmes and Other Missiles; Cubs Look Very Bad.

In one of the wildest and roughest hockey games ever seen in Victoria, the Portland Buckaroos defeated the Victoria Cubs 1.0 at the Willows Arena last night. It could hardly be called a bockey game, the players looking like a couple of old-fashioned shinny teams. Throughout the whole of the third period the fans treated the game as a good joke and clearly displayed their feelings by littering the ice with programmes, fruit and other missiles that were handy.

"Mickey" Ion was away off form.

"Mickey" Ion was away off form.

The same in the game he was unable to hold his feet, slipping flat on the ice, much to the inusement of the fans. He was unable o follow the play and let the players lash and cut and butt-end away at each other to their heart's content. Taking into consideration the amount if rough body checking it was remarkable that some of the players were not seriously injured.

Fight Card

The fans were absolutely discusted with Ion, and he was booed and hooted very time he skated near the boards juring the hectic third period. An dea of just how rough the game dereloped into during the third period an be seen by looking over the list of benalties. Eleven players spent two minutes each in the cooler and this was just about half the number of penalties there should have been.

As far as good hockey was concerned there was none seen, except for a few minutes in the first period. The Cubs cooked terrible. Earl Robertson, the ocal goalte, let his teammates down hadly by allowing two soft goals to filp into the net between his skates. They were easy shots. The remainder at the club showed up little better, and at one stage during the second period very poor management was shown. "Ossie" Osmundson being left on the ice after he had injured his ince and could hardly skate. He itayed on the ice in this condition for shout seven minutes.

Dame halted Twice

On two occasions referee Ion was Sweeney, who appears in the semi-sweeney, who appears in the semi-sweeney, who appears in the semi-sweeney.

DAME HALTED TWICE

On two occasions Referce Ion was forced to halt the game and call on the rink rats to clear the ice of litter thrown down by the irate fans. As quick as the youngsters would pick up the programmes, etc., the fans would throw more onto the smooth surface, making it appear like a garbage heap. By their victory the Buckaroos are now tied with Seattle for second place. The Cubs remain in last place and it will be a hard task now for them to make the play-off series.

Something seems radically wrong with the Victoria team. At the beginning of the season the Cubs appeared to be as strong as any club in the league, but now they certainly look like the weak sisters. The team is playing poorer hockey now than in the liesque, but now they certainly look. It is a many of improvement has been shown. The other teams all have improved, and are stepping away from the Cubs. Lack of team play appears one of the main toubles with the Cubs.

CUBS HAD EDGE

In the first period the Cubs had a distinct edge, but they were unable to beat Timmins, who seems to hold a finx on the Victoria team. Time after time Kelly, Evans or Redpath would be right through but the elongated goalle always blocked their shots. On one occasion Kelly went clean through the defence and with only Timmins to beat slapped the puck into the goalle's pads.

CLUB TO DEVELOP YOUNG SWIMMERS

V.A.S.C. Plans to Coach Juniors in Swimming and Diving; to Form Polo Teams

An extensive programme to develop junior swimmers in the club was outlined by a committee of the VASC. during a meeting last night. Coaching of youngsters in both swimming and diving, as well as the formation of a junior water polo team, was discussed favorably by the group, which intends to commence its work with young swimmers in the near future.

It is the club's plan to devote half an hour, from 7.39 until 8 o'clock, every Thursday evening to the coaching and teaching of swimming while polo practices will be held later.

The regular weekly handicaps for both senior and junior swimmers will be held again, and medais will be given to winners of the different competitions.

The committee also decided to hold at least four interclub galas during the year in order to promote competitive racing in the city.

The club will probably commence its activities along these lines early in March.

In connection with the Commercial League hockey play-off game scheduled for Friday night between the Bapcos and Plimiely & Ritchles arrangements have been made to give away 1,000 free tickets for children under sixteen years of age.

Toronto, Feb. 20 .- As the National Hockey League season goes down the home stretch complaints about the lack of scoring are due to increase. The teams with play-off positions at stake in nearly every contest are not taking any chances with open play, and the spectators who favor numerous goals are the sufferers. Last night's three games provide a good sample of the closing battles. Only five goals were scored by the six teams involved, and more than half of these were tallied in the battle between Detroit and Ottawa. The Senators, tailenders in the international group, cut loose with two counters before Detroit could get started and wound up with a 2-1 victory, their tenth of the season.

Right Winger of Toronto Leafs Has Three-point Lead Over Nels Stewart

Montreal, Feb. 20.—The rush made by Toronto Leafs into occupation of one of the playoff berths in the Canadian section of the National Hockey League is reflected in the scoring figures, including the games of last Sunlay, announced from the league offices. His Own Story As Told to HUGH FULLERTON

TIDES OF FORTUNE

From the day I closed the cafe in Los Angeles, until May, 1926. I spent my time hunting, fishing and working on the ranch, striving to regain health. I went into cattle breeding and developed one of the finest Holstein herds in the country. In every stock show where I exhibited they took more than their share of prizes. At one Los Angeles show, when the pick of the country, including, the famous herd of Anita Baldwin, daughter of Lucky Baldwin of Santa Anita ranch entered, I showed twenty-eight head leaving my prize animal, the big bull, at home because he was victous, and captured seventy-five per cent of the ribbons, winning the grand champlon with a two-year-old helfer, and first prize in every class excepting one in which I entered.

I enjoyed the work with the herds, but raising thoroughbred cattle. like raising dranges, is a rich maniguixury, and in 1921 I disposed of the entered.

MNOTHER KNOCKOUT

The luck, or fate, or whatever it was, which had run against me from the Johnson fight, handed me another knockout. I started dasbling in oil wells and gold mines, I always have trusted people, once I accepted them as friends, and frequently took the word of men instead of investigating—which is poor business. I helped sink three oil wells that were dry, and discovered there is much to learn in the oil business, I gave it up and went into gold mining.

The men I trusted showed marvelous charts and fine reports from engineers. As usual, there were millions in it. They were convincing, so much so that a quarter of a million dollars of hard earned money went into the mine. I put in all my available cash and signed notes for the rest, since which I have often wished. I never that learned to write.

There was no gold. The notes came due, and I discovered that the men I had trusted so implicitly did not have the money they claimed they

CREDITORS IMPATIENT

I was caught. I relt that, while I had been victimized. I was bound morally to pay. I went to the creditors, told them my financial condition and said if they were willing to wait until I could realize on property I would pay dollar for dollar. They were impatient. They wanted their money immediately. There was nothing for me to do but to go through bankruptcy, and when the proceeding were over I was penniless, and for the first time in my life seriously worried. The creditors took all my personal property, everything I owned.

Fortunately for me, the ranch was in Mrs. Jeffries's name and had been from the time of its purchase, many years before the unfortunate mining, venture, otherwise I would have had to take a pick and shovel and go to

Rail Consolidation Plan Is Advanced

TECHNICAL EDUCATION AID CEASES

Dominion Aid to Province Expires at End of March

Text Book Problem Before Public Accounts Committee

The amount of $90,000, which British Columbia has been receiving annually for technical education. Will be dropped after March, and if the Government wishes to continue it will have to take oves-the expenditure: Dr. 8. J. Willis told the Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature yesterday, in answer to questions by G. A. Walkem, chairman. What the Government will do was a matter of policy on which he was not prepared to speak, he said.

Behool text books were discussed, Dr. Willis mentioning that the Alberta system had been given consideration by the Government. Under this system the Government purchased direct from the publisher and sold the books at cost. R. R. Hayward said another method that had been suggested was for the Government to find the publishers' cost and then set a resale price beyond which no store could sell.

The chairman remarked that there was obvious overlapping. Brother might follow brother through High School, but the suggestion that the books be passed on was not given.

The principle of free text books, Dr. W. H. Sutherland thought was wrong. It taught pupils to be extravagant and, he favored a small charge, possibly ten cents, with free books for those not in a position to pay. For health reasons he was not in favor of books being handed on.

"You can't imagine the backbiting a young girl school teacher sometimes has to put up with." said the chairman, recalling the recent suicide of a teacher on Vancouver Island. Dr. Willis replied that discharging the board and appointing an official trustee had been found the most satisfactory way to meet such cases.

BENEFIT OF TOURIST HERE IS EXPLAINED

Results of Publicity Bureau's

Direct benefits to the City of Victoria from increased tourist travel, such as the building of the new Empress Hotel wing, the inauguration of the Yuletide festival, the mid-Winter golf tournament and generally more prosperity are outlined in the annual report of the Victoria and Island Fublicity Bureau submitted to-day.

Discussing the efforts of the bureau to stimulate travel and the results of these efforts, the report reads:

"The systematic efforts of the bureau to expand the Summer tourist business so that it will link up the Fall and Spring with the Winter influx of Prairie visitors, have shown good results during the past twelve months. It is now clear that there is a class of tourists willing to come and stay in Victoria from September to December, and from January to May. These people are very welcome guests, as they occupy furnished suites or stay at the hotels duging seasons which in the past, have shown a loss rather than a profit on the books of hotel-keepers and others catering to the tourist business.

C.P.R. EFFORTS

C.P.R. EFFORTS

"The growth of the tourist travel in the Winter to British Columbia has been such during the past year that the leading travel agencies and the Canadian Railways are now concentrating on, it, and with a view to further stimulating its development this year, the Canadian Pacific Railway has not only staged a very successful 'Christmas Pestival in Victoria, but has also inaugurated a Winter golf tournament for amateurs, which will last for one week during February. It is the aim of the organizers of this tournament to make it one of the outstanding events in the golf world during the Winter months; their success will unquestionably be of immense financial benefit to Victoria, bringing, as it will a most desirable class of visitors during the Winter season.

"One of the outstanding results of class of visitors during the Winter season.

"One of the outstanding results of the tourist business is the announcement by the Canadian Pacific Railway that they will spend, $2,500,000 in Victoria immediately on an addition of 270 rooms to the Empress Hotel. When it is remembered that of this sum at least $1,000,000 will be spent in wages in Victoria it will be seen how the tourist business brings money to all kinds of workers.

"Reports from up-laiand resorts all tell of business during the last year as well up to the average, and in some cases much better than the past, Shawnigan Lake would appear to be coming back to its own as a popular Summer playground, while other up-laiand resorts, such as Sooke, Cowichan River, Lake and Bay, Parksville, Nanaimo, Qualicum, Cameron Lake, Sproat Lake, Comox, Campbell River and resorts on the Saanich Peninsula are all investing more money in this business.

The amount and value of building either erected or begun in Victoria during 1928 showed a very substantial increase over that of any recent year. One very pleasing feature was the fact that there was practically no speculative building all work being done to the order of the owners for their own use. That fact is very important, showing as it does, the very substantial foundation on which Victoria is growing. Here are some figures for the City of Victoria alone, showing the kinds of buildings being erected. In 1928 $505,940 was spent on new private houses; $191,000 on new industrial plants. The large majority of the private houses were built to the order and for the use of new comers, while the apartment houses and suites would not have been necessary if there had been no visitors. Dominion Crop Nearly $300,-000,000, Government Report Shows

In the United States, Tourists Spend $3,500,000,000

The "trail of gold" left by tourists in the United States and Canlsts in the United States and Can-ada last year forms an Item in the annual report of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau worthy of study. It is estimated that tourists and campers in the United States spent something over $3,500,000,000 while in Canada the tourist "crop" amounted to a figure approximating $300,000,000.

In the Canadian list, British Columbia ranks third with a crop of $29,217,000. Ontario is first with $166,882,000.

Dealing with this "trail of gold" the bureau report says:

"The value of the tourist business is shown by Government reports issued by both the Dominion Government and the Government of the United States. The Department of the United States. The Department of the Interior of the United States are report disclosing that last year the record-breaking total of 3,026,273 people checked into the national parks, the vast majority being sightseers driving their privately owned automobiles.

BUDGET BEFORE CITY

New Work in All Departments Is Frowned on; Maintenance Sums Scaled Down

The City Council was in a "No" mood last night. Revision of the works, parks and other estimates found pruning parties afield with sudden forays slashing through amended votes with determination.

amended votes with determination.

The council vetoed a suggestion of an improved garbage collection, to shorten the period of collection from ten and a quarter days as at present, to eight days. The same answer was made to the suggested erection of a refreshment pavilion at Beacon Hill-Park. New mains asked for at $21,000 odd were scaled down to $14,000, after hoyering around the $2,500 mark for half an hour.

Pand concerts were passed at ap-

Band concerts were passed at ap-proximately the same figure as last year, but there will be no new marine walk around Dallas Boad. Macadam roads, for which $17.860 was asked will have to get by on $7.500.

LITTLE NEW WORK

ment is antiquated.

The council had much to say in regard to the cost of park upkeep, and said it. The city was not getting value for the money. One alderman augested that the Gorge Park be given away to Sanich if that municipality could take it.

Even the little white bear, in bear of this came in for notice. Alderman J. L. Mara thought the bear should be given or sold to some museum. It was cruel to keep the animal in its present isolated state, he said. The chief crueity lay in the fact that the bear was mateless, supplied Alderman E. S. Woodward, but discussion lapsed.

On its "yes" side the council vote trongly in favor of increasing light roy facilities a made for a power in 273 lamp standards, and tempower in 273 lamp standards, and teative provision was made for additional plant installation, from supplies already on hand.

After some discussion the council After some discussion the replacements of the province of of ment of existing mains serving the industrial area along Montreal Street and at Ogden Point Docks with a larger main, to give greater pressure and rotume in this area. The change would benefit the B.C. Worsted Mills Limited, the Cold Storage plant, and dock protection. It was stated. Opposition to the scheme was voiced, founded on the cost of the work, said to be in the neighborhood of some $12,000. The neighborhood of some viscoped at hotels and resorts, while, 12,100,000 either camped or patronized cottage camps. Tenters number 8,470,000, while cottage campes number 8,470,000, while cottage campers number 8,470,000, while cottage campers number 8,630,000.

"Ten days was the average length of trip made by hotel tourists and the average sum spent per day per person was close to $7.50, making the total expenditure rise to the record-breaking dimensions of $2.392,500,000. Campers averaged $3.30 for each individual and were thirty days affeld. Their total expenditures amounted to the stargering sum of $1.197,900,000. Thus hotel tourists and campers in the United States last year left a trail of gold totaling $3.590,400,000. From these figures it is apparent that the business of selling scenery in the United States amounts to an enterprise worth approximately one-third of the annual turnover of the automobile manufacturing business."

the council adjourned. Provision was made for the next estimates meeting at 2.30 p.m. on Monday, when the Mayor and Aldermen will sit until the budget is completed.

All salary appropriations have yet to-be fixed, occurring in a separate portion of the budget, and this, with incidental votes and the estimates for the Fire Department, and ratification of the police estimates, mixe up the bulk of the expenditure sheets still to be reviewed.

Thousands of cars were brought to the Island by the Canadian Pacific automobile ferries from Vancouver to Nanaimo, and that particular service proved the most popular one for motorists to travel on. The announcement by the Canadian Pacific Railway of their intention to operate the Motor Princess between Steveston and Sidney this Summer means another additional automobile ferry service, and your directors are confident that this new service will prove very Company already this year has definitely put into effect a reduction in automobile rates which will favorably affect over 70 per cent of the cars

I am afraid the market is going to prove somewhat disappointing, but if you are willing to buy sound stocks on each temporary dip and exercise a little patience with them until the credit situation becomes sufficiently satisfactory to those in control to allow them to pass around the word that there is no particular objection to a renewal of speculative activity, the market is not without its possibilities for profits, although they may not be as splendidly gained as they have been recently.

A number of issues sagged to new hows for the year, but the Dow Jones awerage of 30 industrials was up 4.89 points for the day and for 20 rails the average was up 1.02 points for the day.

Auburn Motors shot forward again, reaching a new peak at 179 ½. Bethlehm Steel climbed fast to a new high at 95 %. Auburn Motors shot forward again, reaching a new peak at 179 %. Beth-lehem Steel climbed fast to a new high at 95 %.

New York, Feb. 20.—The evening edition of The Wall Street Journal says: Money continued in supply today at 6 per cent, and it was stated that probably on account of smaller volume of trading for funds was lighter, with the prospect that the call rate would remain around 6 or 7 per cent, there was practically no comment whatever in possibility of an increase in the Federal Reserve rediscount rate to-morrow, and the street appears to have reached the conclusion that the New York board would make no change in the rate at this week's meeting.

The weekly steel trade reviews featured the advancing price frend, and the high rate of operations. The news budget was therefore considered quite constructive, and was translated into a burst of buying activity which spread quite general through the industrial list in the afternoon. Packard was a feature. It was announced that the new Diesel engine for acroplanes would shortly be placed upon the market in quantity. There is said to have been a good demand for Packard stock lately from the middle west, and this demand apparently found the issue in a Technical position which invited a sharp advance. There was also talk that spock sold when Packard was a base talk that spock sold when Packard was above 150 had been replaced on the recent weakness.

Bethlehem Steel was another feature. Making a new high just before the close expectation in that the company will report substantially higher earnings for the first half of 1929 than were recorded in the second half of 1928, and there are, in fact, predictions that Eathlehem Steel may be one of the 1929 steel year from an earning point. It was again considered significant that the market turned dull to-day on all attempts at reaction.

Bond Trading Falls Off Again

New York, Feb. 20.—Trading in the early bond market to-day continued to fail off, with the volume of sales around yesterday's record low levels for the year. Traders became more wary of the credit situation as the Federal Reserve Board in Washington announced approval of the New York increase in bankers' acceptance buying rates for all Federal Reserve banks. Money was slightly easter.

Many of the bond houses are beginning to abandon their optimistic hopes of last year for a revival of interest in the market for the first part of 1929, because of the unsatisfactory nature of the credit situation. Only an early revision downward in time money rates, it is claimed, will bring in buying on a scale to bolster the market.

Rails displayed a firm tone with the filling of applications by the Baltimore and Ohlo and Van Sweringen interests for consolidation of eastern roads. Erie 58 improved.

Utilities sold down fractionally as pressure was exerted again, International Telephone convertible 4½s and Utilities Power and Light 5½s. The industrial list was quiet.

Trading was exceptionally dull in the foreign list, which displayed an irregular tone.

New York, Feb. 20.—A new process of the International Combustion Engineering presents a new and distinct angle. The New York Herald-Tribune to-day says. Under this process a new fuel of smokeless coke is created with no slate or clinkers content and with very little ash. It is expected that the company will become a holding unit with controlling stock of many plants operating this process throughout the country.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)
Winnipeg, Feb. 20—Wheat: Wheat intinued its upward march to-day in the previous close, almost making new highs for the crop year. One rige mill was a fair buyer early, but the trade generally was of a speculative earacter, with locals reinstating long ares, while commission houses were ton the buying side.

During the first hour the pit seemed all on the buying side.

During the first hour the pit seemed to be full of buying orders and sufficient wheat was taken to tighten the situation, as there was no pressure until near the close when some profittaking appeared and some selling against the daily offers, and the market eased off. The pool were credited with selling July wheat. Exporters and seaboard houses were doing nothing, and export sales overnight were said to be nil.

(Vancouver, B.C.) Pirst (Closed) Mortgage 6% Sinking Pund Gold Bonds Dated: February 15, 1929 Due: February 15, 1944

Dated: February 15, 1929 Due: February 15, 1944

These bonds will be a direct obligation of Vancouver Eroperties Limited, accellically secured by a first closed mortgage on land owned in fee and the Medical and Dental Studings being secured on the northwest corner of Georgia and Hornby Signates, Vancouver, B.C. Appraisals based on the present value of the land plus setual cost of the completed building amount to $1,702,179 of which this issue represents about 58.

Application for most of the store space, for the garage mace, and skined applications for more than 50% of the office space are in the hands of the owners, Leases are being made only after a careful check as to professional standing and responsibility of the applicants. Allowing 10% for vacancles which is considered conservative in view of the known demand for office mace of this nature, it is estimated the net earnings available for interest charges should be $150,000 annually, or 2% times the maximum requirements of this testing.

THE OLD ORDER CHANGES

By DAVID LYALL

"Have you counted the cost? You know what I am; a very simple person. Mrs. Manning will be horrified. You must know that She would consider me the greatest calamity that had ever happened to Mardocks."

"Does that matter" It is you and I alone whom it concerns."

"Then I have no equipment for being a great lady. I don't even believe in any of the things they believe in. I have no use for great estates and prestige and tradition and feudal things. Perhaps they were necessary once for the welding of Engiand into what she has become, but they must pass. My father is a great Liberal, Major Manninge, and I am his daughter. We are conservors of the things that matter; levellers, destroyers if you like of the rest. It is better that you know."

"But that is what I am. Til hold on to whatever is good and sound in the Mardocks tradition, and let the rest go by the board. I need your help. Can't you see it? God sent me to you!"

They like camp preaching and remember, it somehow so much better than things said to them in a clubroom. I save, up all the things I really want to get home until I have them here."

Vancouver, Feb. 20.—The Vancouver Daily Province to-day carried the following:

"A new joit has been given to British Columbia exporters and manufacturers in the past week by their United States rivals, backed by the Government at Washington.

"Not content with a prospective monopoly of the South American export market under the system of government subsidies to steamship services to that country, and with the possibility of also capturing the Canadian trade in Australia by a similar scheme of bonusing running from $16,000 to $18,000 a round trip, the exporters have decided to make a bid also for the trade of British South Africa.

will not call here this trip but is proceeding direct from Los Angeles to Vancouver, omitting calls at San Prancisco and Victoria. It was learned this morning by King Bros. local agents, who received word to this effect from the South.

No reason for this change in schedule was given other than that the delay would have to be made up on the Coast. It is thought here that the Shipper was delayed by rough weather on the Atlantic during the crossing from England, and that heavy freight consignments for the South kept the vessel from catching up on her schedule.

The local agents expect that the liner will pass the quarantine station bound for the mainland on Saturday morning of this week.

'New Outlook," Official Publication of United Church, Plans Attractive Tour to Eastern Canada

Continuing the policy of promoting closer relations between the people of Eastern and Western Canada, and following up the successful tour of 1927, when 200 people from the East travelled through the west, the "New Outlook" official publication of the United Church of Canada, has made arrangements for a similar party to tour the Dominion's most easterly provinces this coming Summer. A deluxe special train of the Canadian National Railways will leave Toronto on June 17, visiting Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec City, thence the principal towns and cities of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island. Special car will be operated from Vancouver, June 13, confecting with the special train at Toronto. The party will travel by steamer down the St. Lawrence and Saguenay Rivers, also through the Bras d'Or Lakes of Cape Breton. The price will be on an all-inclusive basis, and an attractively: illustrated booklet has been published describing the trip in detail. The tour

Of Waterpower Permits

Ottawa, Feb. 20—The bill introduced by T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto Northwest, to amend the Navigable Waters Protection Act was rejected on second reading by the Commons last night, 85 to 72.

The bill would have changed the act so that all works on navigable waterways such as waterpower developments, would have had to obtain the sanction of Parliament before being gone ahead with At present the sanction is given by the Governor-in-Council, which in effect, is the Cabinet.

The bill was suggested to Mr. Church by the St. Lawrence waterpower development discussion.

Those on the right of the Speaker who voted opposed the bill, while those on the left supported it.
